

T.H.E.M.

Packaging Machinery

With global packaging relationships dating back 20 years and sensitivity to a diverse range of overseas cultures, T.H.E.M. functions as an effective liaison for the identification, selection, and acquisition of foreign packaging technologies.

T.H.E.M. is the exclusive N.A. agent or representative for the following packaging systems manufacturers:

- Sanko Machinery Company, LTD.
- Chuo Packaging
- Mitsubishi Corp. (Packaging unit)

Through these established relationships, T.H.E.M. can readily support production systems for the following packaging formats:

- Slim Stick®
- Bulk Liquid Pack
- AVP® (self-venting pouch)

All systems are available in a full range of sizes and capacities, from single lane prototype units, to multi-lane production systems for high-volume commercial production.

In addition to representing these lines, T.H.E.M. can also identify and source other systems throughout the world to meet additional specific packaging requirements.
