The Sanko Solution®

Machinery is but one component of an overall production and distribution infrastructure and, as with any effective packaging system, support, service, and engineering are all key elements that must function cohesively for a successful and profitable venture.

That's why we created The Sanko Solution® in conjunction with Sanko Machinery Co. and Power Packaging Group. This unique alliance offers North American marketers affordable and rapid access to complete, turnkey flexible packaging solutions.

Sanko Sanko Machinery Co., LTD of Japan is a premier manufacturer of high-speed, single-serve packaging systems and is a recognized innovator in vertical form/fill/seal flexible packaging machinery. With four manufacturing plants and thousands of machines in operation worldwide, Sanko is the global leader in its field.

POWER PACKAGING

The Power Group, a manufacturing and logistics provider with over twenty facilities in four countries, specializes in dedicated and multi-use food manufacturing, packaging, and logistics services, and has provided outsourcing and integrated supply chain solutions to Fortune 100 marketers for over 30 years.

T.H.E.M., working in conjunction with Sanko and The Power Group, supplies not only packaging systems, but also access to vast engineering and production expertise. Together, these three entities represent a unique and interconnected solution that translates into efficient and rapid entry into the realm of flexible packaging.

The Sanko Solution fully supports customers with equipment specification and selection, engineering services, access to capacity, trained operators, and total supply chain management from implementation to full-scale production. This synergistic relationship minimizes capital and startup costs, and delivers low risk access to flexible packaging, adapted to American standards and custom engineered to your precise project requirements.
